In Compliance with the Principles for Financial Benchmark published by the International Organization of Securities Commissions (Russell/Nomura Japan Indexes)

The International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) published “Principles for Financial Benchmarks”, report of the IOSCO Board, on July 2013. The report states that “Administrators should publically disclose the extent of their compliance with the Principles”.

The Quantitative Research department of Nomura Securities has verified the extent of compliance of Russell/Nomura Japan Indexes voluntarily and has begun to provide public disclosure.
